Environmental Issues in the School & Workplace

Speaker: Wyatt Mann, The Lincoln Electric Co., Inc.

A follow up to the September meeting on safety, this presentation will focus on new OSHA fume requirements for businesses and schools. Within the welding industry, many questions have been raised on how safe is welding. Welding fumes can and should be managed with proper knowledge of when and how to use proper ventilation. Welding fume is an important topic that needs to be addressed not only at the educational institutes, but at businesses where safety should remain first and foremost. This presentation will cover OSHA standards, what's new and why, proper fume ventilation dependent on applications and factors to consider, ventilation systems as well as available resources and where to find them.

Wyatt Mann has been involved in the welding industry for over 3 years. He graduated from the University of Akron with a Bachelor's of Science degree in Computer Engineering and currently works as a Sales Engineer for The Lincoln Electric Company covering the New York City market. Wyatt has been involved with AWS for almost 3 years and has been on 2 committees as the Technical Rep as well as the Program Director.

Chairman's Message

First, there are two valuable upcoming seminars that need urgent attention to secure registrations. Please help to spread the word about them to your colleagues and others in the industry. Both of these seminars are well worth the time and expense.

11/10/09: a 4-hour Pulsed GMAW & Metal Cored Arc Welding Seminar.

1/19 & 2/16/10: the OSHA 10-hour General Industry Awareness Seminar (in two 5-hour sessions).

See more info about them in this issue. Thanks for your assistance.

Many times during a discussion, someone will say "I didn't know that you do that." This is one of the benefits of being active in the New Jersey Section - Networking. Come out to the meetings and let people know what you do. Also, if you've had success in solving a problem related to welding, send it in to the newsletter so it can be shared with others in the section.

Napoleon Bonaparte once said "Never interrupt an enemy when he [she] is making a mistake." While it may be delightful to have a competitor help your cause, organizations move ahead when members make forward thinking contributions, not by basking in others' mistakes, or in ones past accomplishments.

Award Nominations

Recognition for Deserving Members

Each year the American Welding Society recognizes and acknowledges members who have made significant contributions in their respective welding fields to the advancement of the art and science of welding, to welding education, to enhancing public awareness and opinion about welding, etc., with a variety of awards. But, they need you to nominate these worthy members.

If you know of any NJ Section members who deserve to be recognized for their efforts in, and for the welding industry or welding education, please take the time to submit their names to the Section Awards Committee for consideration.

To submit a nomination, call AWS NJ Section Awards Committee Chairman, Bob Petrone, AGL Welding Supply, Inc., at 973-478-5000.

At the Meeting

September 15, 2009

AWS NJ Section Chairman Jim Dolan (L), with August "Gus" Manz, A.F. Manz Associates. Gus gave a presentation entitled "Safety in Welding & Cutting" at the first meeting of the new season.
